

Pieter de Vries ACS Cinematographer

From the far reach of the Space Shuttle to the depths of the North Atlantic ocean, from ancient land turtles on the Galapagos Islands to sublime performances of the music of Vivaldi, travelling through one hundred and twenty countries, internationally recognised cinematographer and documentary filmmaker Pieter de Vries has been there with a camera.

As an ACS accredited Director of Photography, Pieter has reached the highest levels of his craft and has contributed to much loved programs hosted by Sir David Attenborough and collaborated with Canadian director James Cameron filming the wreck of the Titanic in IMAX 3D.

He has been a recipient of the Australian Cinematographer of the Year Award, and for his photography of National Geographic documentaries, received Emmy nominations.
